

About me

I am 6ft, medium-well build and of Nigerian descent from the Yoruba Ethnic group. Growing in London I was immersed in culture and creativity, which enriched my love of music, sport and film and working with cameras.

My friends would describe me as laidback, creative minded and caring. I'd like to think I'm quite strong minded and ambitious. School and education were an important part of my upbringing, which I loved. School is where I learned to write poetry, play the clarinet and keys. I enjoyed maths and science, which ultimately led to me studying engineering at university. Ultimately my passion for film led to my career in video production.

Goodwill Message

Hi

Hope you're well, I hope everything you need for your joy to be full and your desires to be met will be granted unto you.

Thank you, thank you for being joy, the gift of life, of promise, of hope, of family. Thank you for being a blessing to your parent(s). Children are a blessing, love makes a family, not biology and everyone should have the opportunity to start a family. Providing Couples and Parents hope of having their own family isn't taken lightly, having seen members of my extended family struggle to conceive. It is heart breaking and I felt compelled to provide hope to others.

I hope and pray you've been loved and live a life of love, knowing you were born with a purpose. I wish you all the best in everything you do and live with the comfort that there is a plan and hope in you.

God doesn't make mistakes.
