As a child I was a very active, playful and slightly mischievous. But generally, I enjoyed playing with my friends and my video games. My family was quite a large one because my mum had a lot of extended siblings, which meant loads of time spent with cousins etc. I was mostly good at sporting activities and my video games. I also enjoyed building my Legos. And I enjoyed drawing in school art classes. I wasn't particularly great at maths, but I wasn't that bad either however, over time I challenged myself and channelled my strengths to arts where I was mostly good at. I was brought up Christian as the rest of my family. But my grandma on my mum's side was Muslim and I will say I did learn a few bits and bobs from her and their practices.

When it comes to my personality, I would say I am generally very relaxed and chilled, but strong minded where I need to be. I am determined and very creative in my style and presentation. I studied law (and not only because I didn't like maths) because I enjoyed it, and I am a strong believer of people being treated fairly and equally. I also am against people's rights being infringed. In my spare time I enjoy reading mostly crime and adventure books. My music genres are afro beat, R&B and gospel.

I am 5ft 10 and, at the moment, I have long black dreaded hair on the top half of my head. Toned in body shape, I wear glasses to sharpen images from far. I'm a black man. I like that I am always willing to take on challenges to help develop myself. Despite grumbling about it at the time, I am open and will do it at the end. Not to sound too vain, but it is really important to me that I have a very beautiful life, filled with lots of love and happiness. Life is never very straightforward and has a lot of challenges, but I believe it is important to be open to new ideas and persevere.

I am hoping that you have been shown amazing unwavering love, and been provided with support, guidance, and protection from your family. I am also hoping you become fully equipped in achieving your hopes and dreams for the future. I hope you are able to make mistakes and grow from that, as mistakes shape us.

If I can offer any advice it's: don't give up on math lol, face your fears, always express yourself fully and don't let anyone make you go in a shell. Finally, be focused, be Determined, be Hardworking and Pray. Following this step will make achieving dreams a lot easier. I wish somebody had told me this then.

I believe we grow, mature, and learn new things about ourselves every day. I just found out today I can master the art of singing or hitting notes - can you imagine? Generally, I am a nice, friendly and overly loving man with a keen eye for fashion and keeping fit. I am a determined, hardworking and a dedicated person.

One motivation for me choosing to donate was to be able to help a family in need of a help I can provide. But more importantly, aiding a family to become whole with the joy of a child and the love they are prepared to give in becoming a parent, which is always a lot more than the love out there currently.

I wish you all the best life has to offer with loads of happiness, good health, blessings and loads of love and support all round.
