My 20-year best friend characterises -

<< Adrenaline is the perfect word for this donor.

"It's an indescribable feeling when you're only caught by a string but touching the sky with full joy" is his favourite quote. He is always caught in situations where he has to make new and spontaneous decisions, which leads him not to give up and to give his all in any situation. His blue eyes and solid structure say he is a man of honour and you need to trust him; there is no time to waste with lies or delays. The motivation to move forward despite the odds is the greatest point of his character. >>
