> I am originally from Spain and have lived in the UK for [REDACTED] years. I love traveling, so far I have been to 35 countries but the country that I travel to the most is Spain to visit my friends and family, especially my mother and sister with whom I have an excellent relationship.

> I love my job and I like being proactive and continuously learning new things. My biggest hobbies are sports and exercising. I love cars, this is something that I loved since I remember and I really like cycling and bikes and also running, [REDACTED] I ran my first marathon and since then I have also run a few half marathons and I would like to keep getting some new medals soon.

> My mother is a chef and she teach me since I was a kid how to cook, so I also enjoy cooking and exploring new flavors in the kitchen while trying to be healthy at the same time.

> I guess the rest of my life is pretty normal, work, friends, social live, etc.

> I decided to become a sperm donor because I wanted to help other people who may need extra help to achieve their dream of creating a family.
