Hi there,

I was born and raised in Ireland, the youngest of three children with two older sisters. Growing up on a farm in the countryside gave me a happy childhood. I was quite shy and reserved during my school years, but I became more confident when I left home for my studies. I'm very grateful to my parents for giving me the space and opportunity to grow; they provided guidance and support when I needed it, but also allowed me to find my own way. Both of my parents are Irish and are welcoming and warm personalities.

In school, I enjoyed practical tasks and played Gaelic football for about ten years, starting at the age of ten. I had a natural talent for sprinting, which was a great asset on the field. While our family wasn't religious, I did attend a Catholic school.

I consider myself to be humorous and calm, but I can be quite tenacious if needed—definitely not a pushover!

As I write this, I have no real experience or expectations from donation, and I don't currently have any children. I imagine you will be reading this at the age of 16, and I want to wish you and your family all the best in life. If you choose to reach out, my family will welcome you and yours - no pressures or expectations.

All the best,
