Hi

The reason for becoming a donor, is that I wanted to give people who need that little extra help to have children of their own. I have friends who have not been able to conceive without donors and I have seen how much it has changed their lives and made them happy.

I haven't been in the position to be able to have any children of my own, so why not give someone else the opportunity.

When I was a child, I was very accident prone, always with a lump on my head from falling or something which my parents would be following me around anywhere to make sure I don't hurt myself. When I was in school, I was good at science and technology, I was a bit of a nerd as well as I liked to go train spotting with my brothers.

I was brought up as Church of England, but as a family were where never regularly in church maybe mostly around the Christmas time or with school. I would not say I am religious in anyway; I just feel life should be celebrated and lived in a way that makes you happy, always just be yourself and don't let anyone tell you otherwise.

I've always been quite shy and introvert, so its sometimes takes me a while to make friends or talk to other people, Fun loving and always like to be around family and friends. I like things to be don't very well and work hard to achieve my wishing and desires in life. I work in Insurance [REDACTED] which isn't the most interesting, but I like it, and I've met a couple of lifelong friends in work.

I have been studying a degree in Forensic Psychology [REDACTED] part time [REDACTED] I am nearly finished and find the human mind and behaviours fascinating.

Love films, mainly horror. I like most music, like going clubbing and holidays

Things that are important to me in life are:

- Family
- Friends
- Caring
- Carefree
- Friendly
- Always treat people in life how you would want to be treated and remember everyone has their own challenges in life and hardships, so just remember that when speaking with strangers and friends.

I wanted to give other people the opportunity to have children as I was not fortunate enough to become a father, so wanted to contribute to be able to assist other people to become parents and grandparents.

I'm hoping that the persons who have this opportunity due to my contribution have a happy upbringing full of love, excitement and happiness, I couldn't wish anything less.

I wish you all the success and fortune in life, always be nice to everyone you never know when you may need help yourself.

Life is hard and no one ever said its easy, just remember you are unique and original, so always be yourself and always look for happiness.

Me as a person is a little complicated, very caring and sensitive always want to please others and can be a little stressed. lol.

I'd like to wish you all the best in the future in whatever you do and dream.

Take care or yourself, family and friends.
